

Abstract

A Workers' Compensation claim verification system uses software accessed at a provider computer. The software checks a centralized Workers' Compensation claim verification system to obtain a Workers' Compensation claim number for use in forms and the like. This eases obtaining of a Workers' Compensation claim number for the provider.

5